

“Between every two pines is a doorway to a new world.” - John Muir

The Gifted Tree welcomes you to the virtual world of finding your tree planting location. As you know, someone has planted a gift tree in honor of you or someone you love. Your tree has been or will be planted in Hiawatha National Forest, in Michigan’s wild and scenic Upper Peninsula. The Hiawatha National Forest is unique in that its dramatic shoreline touches upon three of the five Great Lakes -- Superior, Huron and Michigan -- three of the five great lakes. It is also home to several iconic lighthouses, beaches, rivers, and streams that run through the forest for miles, and an abundance of wildlife.

Your gift tree, planted in Hiawatha National Forest, is one of several species, Eastern White Pine, Red Pine, Jack Pine & Eastern Hemlock and is within the 260 acres of the Sault Ste Marie Ranger District. The planting of your tree will help restore land degraded by insect infestations as well as provide important protection for wildlife habitat and contributing to the overall health of the forest. The environmental benefits are critically beneficial in that the sustainable forest your gift tree is helping create provide a rich variety of habitats that host a wide variety of animals and plants. These and other environmental benefits of wise forest stewardship are priceless.

Once connected to the map, feel free to zoom in and out to get a feel of the general planting area as well as its location in Michigan, the United States, and the world. Please understand that this is the general area of your tree planting as your tree is planted among thousands of other gift trees and there is no plaque designating your gift tree.

Enjoy your gifted tree and know that it is making a monumental difference for the earth and opening a new doorway to the world for future generations.
