

“Between every two pines is a doorway to a new world.” - John Muir

The Gifted Tree welcomes you to the virtual world of finding your tree planting location. As you know, someone has planted a gift tree in honor of you or someone you love. Your tree has been or will be planted along rivers that are part of the Connecticut River Watershed in the states of New Hampshire, Vermont, and New Hampshire, the New England region of the United States. The species of trees in this planting project include Willow and Dogwood trees.

The planting areas are places where trees were cut or died of disease. These plantings are crucial for having clean water. It will improve water quality through regulating water temperature by providing shade to the river. Your tree planting will also reduce erosion of the stream banks and stabilize them. Both these factors will help improve water quality as well as improve habitat for fish and other river life.

Due to the nature of this planting project, and the fact that your gift tree is planted in numerous areas along the Watershed, there is no way to virtually view the general area of the planting of your tree. Please understand that there is no plaque designating your gift tree and it is not possible to visit the tree.

Enjoy your gifted tree and know that it is making a monumental difference for the earth and opening a new doorway to the world for future generations.
