

“Between every two pines is a doorway to a new world.” - John Muir

The Gifted Tree welcomes you to the virtual world of finding your tree planting location. As you know, someone has planted a gift tree in honor of you or someone you love. Your tree has been or will be planted in the area of Baarle in the Netherlands. This project has its roots in the cross-border province of North Brabant in the Netherlands as an effort of reforestation and afforestation. Afforestation is the establishment of a forest or stand of trees in an area where there was no previous tree cover. The region has a relatively low afforestation rate which confirms the general trend in the Netherlands where land is predominantly used for agriculture.

Nevertheless, no less than five deciduous and coniferous species will complement this diversification and fallow afforestation project. The species to be planted include European larch, European oak, sycamore maple, chestnut and Nordmann pine. Thanks to the diversity of the species planted, this forest in the making will be even more resistant to future climatic hazards. Moreover, the afforestation will enrich these former agricultural soils while welcoming the biodiversity specific to each of the planted forest species.

Once connected to the map, feel free to zoom in and out to get a feel of the general planting area as well as its location in the Netherlands and the world.

Please understand that this is the general area of your tree planting. Your tree is planted among thousands of other gift trees and there is no plaque designating your gift tree.

Enjoy your gifted tree and know that it is making a monumental difference for the earth and opening a new doorway to the world for future generations.
