

“Between every two pines is a doorway to a new world.” - John Muir

The Gifted Tree welcomes you to the virtual world of finding your tree planting location. As you know, someone has planted a gift tree in honor of you or someone you love. Your tree has been or will be planted in the area around Delano, Tennessee and Hiwassee Ocoee State Park. This region is in the south eastern part of Tennessee near the Georgia border. This reforestation project will plant saplings of White Oak, Dogwood, and other hardwood tree species.

Your project focuses on restoring forests to allow long term conservation for both environmental and community benefit. Environmental benefits include soil stability, erosion control and biodiversity improvement. The planting of these new trees will also help in watershed water quality improvements as the trees mature. The tree growth will also help in the fight against climate change. The reforestation will also provide opportunities for public recreation.

You can view the general area of the planting by clicking on the following link: bit.ly/40oHl4e

Once connected to the map, feel free to zoom in and out to get a feel of the general planting area as well as its location in Tennessee, the United States, and the world. The link is best viewed on a personal computer. Please understand that this is the general area of your tree planting. Your tree is planted among thousands of other gift trees and there is no plaque designating your gift tree and visiting the tree is unfortunately not possible.

Enjoy your gifted tree and know that it is making a monumental difference for the earth and opening a new doorway to the world for future generations.
